Hello,

Congratulations to your home care agency for earning the Caring Stars 2019 award on Caring.com!

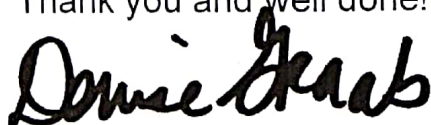

Enclosed is a certificate for your agency's office -- to share this industry-leading honor with staff, clients, their family members, prospective customers, and other visitors to the office. It shows that your organization has been recognized for service excellence after receiving great reviews from older adults and their family members on Caring.com.

More information about this award is located on our website here:
<http://www.caring.com/bestseniorliving> (includes home care)

We initially announced the Caring Stars of 2019 for home care in early December 2018, and emailed a free promo kit with: a special Caring Stars badge for your agency's website and marketing materials; a press release; and a social "meme" or image file you can add to your social network profiles -- to announce your award in more ways.

If your agency didn't receive those items, or you have any questions or special requests, please get in touch with our team:
community@caring.com

Thank you and well done!

Denise Graab
Caring.com's Director of Industry Marketing

P.S. Sometimes third-party companies (such as Top Rated Online) contact Caring Stars winners to sell plaques or other marketing materials. Caring.com is not affiliated with this company or any other vendor to sell Caring Stars winners anything related to the award. Our promo kit and materials for winners are free of charge.
